

Chinese Pronunciation & Romanization “Reboot”

- Original version programmed in Authorware
- Ported to Revolution, 2005
- In continuous use at OSU, BYU since 1992
- All beginning Mandarin students must take all 6 diagnostic tests
- Has saved thousands of hours of class and grading time
- Mac and Windows versions

- Completely rewritten in LiveCode, 2013–2014
- Revamped graphic design presents cleaner look
- Retains all features of previous version
- Adds tutorial modules and practice tests
- Teacher report and analysis tools (planned)
- Mac, Windows, Linux (tentative)
- Projected completion: August 2014

Scan to see screen shots of old version.

Scan to go to Chinese P&R website.

Programming and testing by
Devin N. Asay
Senior Research Fellow
BYU Office of Digital Humanities

Content development by
Dana S. Bourgerie
Professor of Chinese
BYU Dept of Asian and Near Eastern Languages

Development made possible by the generous support of the BYU College of Humanities

Scan for online flyer.

